Lisbon, Oct 9, 2015

Banda / Carlotaoms / Carolina Machado / Cristina Real / David Catalan / Inês Duvale / Patrick De Padua / Ruben Damasio / Sara Santos / Tânia Nicole are the selected young fashion designers , to present their collection in "Sangue Novo" platform during the last edition of Lisbon Fashion Week - ModaLisboa "TheTimers" (Oct 9 - 11, 2015) . Sangue Novo (Fashion young blood) is a collective platform presenting the work of young and emerging designers, recently graduated from fashion courses. Here our selected looks from the catwalk !

The ModaLisboa Award goes to Sara Santos with the collection "Teentakeover" inspired in 60's street subculture and the traditional style of Mod culture from "the rebels without a cause". The ModaLisboa Award represent a Master Level Certificate in the fashion area, a five weeks workshop in Milan offered by the DOMUS Academy and a scholarship awarded by Vulcano, to cover expenses related to the participation in the course.

Tânia Nicole has been chosen by Branko Popovic (co-creative director of Fashionclash) to represent Portugal during the next edition of Dutch fashion festival "Fashionclash" in Maastricht. Tânia's inspiration came from the "Men's Dress Reform Party" group, which joined several London artists and doctors in the late 1920's. A manifesto of comfort as well as individuality and practicality. The collection is titled "Individuality".
